The Wanger Chinchilla Breeding System had been established in 1978 and today it is the world's biggest breeding stock producer and fur trader plantation, a model farm of the West Hungarian University (Mosonmagyaróvár). We participate in several scientific researches and there are university students and teachers visiting us. We are using the Lloyd's Register ISO9002 qualifying system's rules. We edit books and technological instructions.

The farm in Komárom has 6000 breeding mothers. All these chinchillas are pedigreed and qualified. We coordinate Hungarian and foreigner chinchilla breeders in neighboring countries, help their work with further education and professional advises. We have high results in modern breeding, breeding technology and feeding technologies. We set up a new quality degree with revolutionizing dressing. We receive furs from all over the world to curry them with our Royal Blue method. We do research day by day, try to perform the highest quality level what we can.
